UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

-v-

WALTER VALDIVIA,

Defendant.

23 Cr. 461

Order

VALERIE CAPRONI, United States District Judge:

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the defendant, Walter Valdivia, shall be released from custody to a Residential Reentry Center (“RRC”) subject to the following conditions:

1. Upon Mr. Valdivia’s release from state or federal custody, he must report to Probation within 12 hours of his release.
2. During the time he resides at the RRC, Mr. Valdivia must abide by all the rules and regulations of the RRC, and he is not permitted to leave the facility without prior approval from Probation. Mr. Valdivia’s contribution toward the cost of subsistence is waived.
3. If no local RRC has an available bed at the time of Mr. Valdivia’s release from state or federal custody, he must reside at his father’s apartment, subject to a home inspection and approval by Probation, and he will be subject to location monitoring. He may not leave his father’s apartment without approval from Probation.

4. Once released from custody, Mr. Valdivia must report to a mental health provider, at the direction of Probation, for a comprehensive mental health evaluation and for continuing mental health treatment.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the parties are ordered to appear for a status conference on Thursday, October 25, 2023, at 3:00 P.M. in Courtroom 443 of the Thurgood Marshall Courthouse, 40 Foley Square, New York, New York, 10007. The parties and Probation are ordered to submit a joint status update by October 18, 2023.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that this Order is entered, pursuant to Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 5(f) and the Due Process Protections Act, Pub. L. No 116–182, 134 Stat. 894 (Oct. 21, 2020), to confirm the Government’s disclosure obligations under Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963), and its progeny, and to summarize the possible consequences of violating those obligations.

The Government must disclose to the defense all information “favorable to an accused” that is “material either to guilt or to punishment” and that is known to the Government. Id. at 87. This obligation applies regardless of whether the defendant requests this information or whether the information would itself constitute admissible evidence. The Government shall disclose such information to the defense promptly after its existence becomes known to the Government so that the defense may make effective use of the information in the preparation of its case.

As part of these obligations, the Government must disclose any information that can be used to impeach the trial testimony of a Government witness within the meaning of Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972), and its progeny. Such information must be disclosed sufficiently in advance of trial in order for the defendant to make effective use of it at trial or at such other time as the Court may order.¹

The foregoing obligations are continuing ones and apply to materials that become known to the Government in the future. These obligations also apply to information that is otherwise subject to disclosure regardless of whether the Government credits it.

In the event the Government believes that a disclosure under this Order would compromise witness safety, victim rights, national security, a sensitive law-enforcement technique, or any other substantial government interest, it may apply to the Court for a modification of its obligations, which may include in camera review or withholding or subjecting to a protective order all or part of the information otherwise subject to disclosure.²

For purposes of this Order, the Government has an affirmative obligation to seek all information subject to disclosure under this Order from all current or former federal, state, and local prosecutors, law enforcement officers, and other officers who have participated in the prosecution, or investigation that led to the prosecution, of the offense or offenses with which the defendant is charged.

If the Government fails to comply with this Order, the Court, in addition to ordering production of the information, may:

- (1) specify the terms and conditions of such production;
- (2) grant a continuance;
- (3) impose evidentiary sanctions;
- (4) impose contempt or other sanctions on any lawyer responsible for violations of the

¹ This Order does not purport to set forth an exhaustive list of the Government's disclosure obligations.

² The Classified Information Procedures Act sets forth separate procedures to be followed in the event that the Government believes matters relating to classified information may arise in connection with the prosecution. See 18 U.S.C. app. 3 §§ 1 et seq.

- Government's disclosure obligations, or refer the matter to disciplinary authorities;
- (5) dismiss charges before trial or vacate a conviction after trial or a guilty plea; or
- (6) enter any other order that is just under the circumstances.

SO ORDERED.
